A Cup Of Coffee With 10 Leading Attorneys In The United States: Constitutional Champions Share Their Stories, Experiences, And Insights

Synopsis

A Cup of Coffee With 10 Leading Attorneys In The United States is a sampler. Within the covers of this book you will find an assortment of attorneys whose specialties are as varied as the backgrounds of the lawyers themselves. From small town girls to young men who dreamed of professional sports and learned to play hard ball on an entirely different court, this book is the key to what motivates the people who work to fill the only job in the country that our Founding Fathers thought important enough to mandate within the Constitution itself. Here you will find helpful information on not only lesser-known legal niches such as Elder Law, Estate Planning and Administration, but also Business Law, Criminal Defense and the arduous business of making huge corporations pay for their gross negligence and the life-altering chaos it can cause. You will come away from A Cup of Coffee With 10 Leading Attorneys In The United States, with a better understanding of the law and a whole new appreciation for the men and women who practice it. And, while none of these attorneys regularly ride to work on white chargers, we think you will find them to be Champions, nonetheless.

Very interesting and informative. Lawyers are people too. We sometimes forget that as politicians and the media try to blame them for everything. Maybe we've been looking at it all wrong. They are there to "PROTECT US AND OUR RIGHTS" it's the government and politicians that are systematically taking our rights away, often times without us even knowing it! EVERYONE SHOULD READ THIS!

What a great read. A look inside the life of an attorney... great resource for someone who is looking to get their law degree or to hire a great lawyer!

Great book!! That attorney Paul LaValle is very handsome too!
