In addition to a thorough update based on the most recent recommendations, this second edition contains six new chapters: Emergency Health Services (EMS and other first responders) Burn Assessment and Management Explosive & Traumatic Terrorism Caring for High-Risk, High-Vulnerability Patients Emerging Infectious Disease (avian and other flu pandemics) Chemical Decontamination All content reflects the guidelines provided in the Federal Disaster Response Plan and the National Incident Management System (NIMS) and therapeutic recommendations from the national Centers for Disease Control and Prevention. Disaster Nursing will prepare any nurse or EMS team to provide health care under a variety of disaster conditions.

This text was required for my grad school Crisis Management and Emergency Preparedness nursing class. It has been a great resource and a nice addition to the comprehensive overview needed for understanding this field of study.

Needed the book for grad school. It was in good shape and easy to navigate. Even though the class has ended, I am keeping the book at home as a guide for emergencies. I am not a nurse, so it is a great reference manual. I am also becoming FEMA-certified, so the book's topics make it easy for me to understand the continuing education material by both FEMA and the Dept. of Homeland Security.

The book I ordered has a pink sharpie all over the text. So it was not new and somebody else used it before. I am a guy and I hate using pink sharpie. URGGGHHHâ | Thanks for making me pay 24 bucks, I should have ordered a used book for $ 1.70â | Now I can't even return it because my classes have already started. Thanks a lot!!!!!!
